

WINLOCK REVEALS LIFETIME CONCEALED RANGE

Winlock Security, the UK's leading manufacturer of door and window handles has unveiled an innovative range which promises to purge all peevs from handle hardware.

The Lifetime Concealed Handle range is cleverly designed to improve the performance and look of door furniture by eliminating corrosion and sagging, whilst concealing all visible fixings.

No more unsightly chipped, discoloured or damaged screw heads. With the Lifetime Concealed's internal cover plate all screw fixes are hidden, resulting in smooth clean lines, both inside and out.

No more fatigued, sagging handles. The Lifetime Concealed's sprung handles are made from hollow stainless steel or aluminium, both of which are lightweight and far less likely to sag than zinc, brass or cast stainless alternatives.

Akin to the high performance TS 007 Lifetime Security range, but at a highly competitive price, the Lifetime Concealed handle also guarantees customer satisfaction for 15-years on the exposed external parts, all of which are made from 304-grade stainless steel.

Commenting on this new range Winlock Security Ltd MD Alan Parker said "We set ourselves the objective of producing a door handle range that would eliminate corrosion issues at an acceptable cost, whilst also significantly enhancing the overall look and performance of our customers' doors. French doors in particular are transformed internally by eliminating visible fixings. We believe these handles will sell our customers' doors."

The Lifetime Concealed Range is available now in all stainless steel inside and out, stainless steel outside/aluminium inside or powder-coated aluminium inside and out and in any painted colour.
